RE: Starting School

Dear Parents/Carers,

Starting school can be a little scary (for both the child and parents). At this moment in time, I would imagine the feelings towards starting school could certainly be mixed. But first of all, let me reassure you that your child's well-being will always be our number one priority. We are sincerely looking forward to September when we can welcome our pupils back and especially your child/children who will be starting 'actual' school for the first time.

In normal circumstances we would be able to put in some thorough and fun transition days and activities; these will happen in September and I am sure the children will settle brilliantly and enjoy exploring and learning with us. Below is a link which will take you to short questionnaire to see how we can organise support for transition:

Mrs Harrison and Mrs Powdrill have together written to you separately and if you have any further questions you may contact them.

In the meantime, stay safe and I hope to see the children with us soon. And be sure to check our website: https://www.blislandprimary.co.uk/Information/Starting\_Reception

Best wishes,

Matt Avery

(Head of School)
